

4-H CLUBS IN THE CLASSROOM

Some teachers choose to take their 4-H curriculum a step further by turning their classrooms or after-school program into a 4-H club, utilizing 4-H activities and awards to motivate students, with extra credits for special projects such as 4-H Fair exhibits and completing 4-H record books. Through 4-H, students can further develop citizenship and leadership skills.

Role of 4-H Extension Agent:

- Provide enrollment materials for your club.
- Provide teacher/leader workshop on organizing your club.
- Provide 4-H teaching guides and a record book for each student.
- Enable students to participate in county wide 4-H events and activities.
- Provide a list of the many other 4-H projects and activities available.

Role of Teacher / Provider:

- Request a teacher/leader workshop.
- Enroll your students as 4-H club members by completing the registration form on the back of this book and fax, or mail to the Extension office or register on-line.
- Distribute students' workbooks, project guides and record books provided.
- Conduct club meetings following 4-H guidelines.
- Share information with students about 4-H events and activities.

Existing clubs can benefit from a 4-H affiliation. Science, Drama and other special interest clubs can enjoy and benefit from the resources 4-H offers.
